Note from the Pastor

Resurxit Sicut Dixit

Resurexit Sicut Dixit

He is risen just as He said. I have begun every Easter message with this quote because it says it all.

How long do you want to live? Forever!

But we die, people die all the time and so will you.

I know, but I want to live... forever.

And so you shall.

Really? How do I know? Has anybody come back from the dead to show me?

Well... yes there has.

Who?

Jesus, the Christ.

And tell me, just how did he rise from the dead?

Well, actually He was raised from the dead by the Father. But first He had to die.

I knew there was a catch.

Today we celebrate new life. Today the butterfly bursts from its cocoon and flies free. Today the seed that died now bursts forth and flowers. And when the flower dies, the fruit will outdo what the flowers have promised. And so it goes.

Today the darkness is dispelled by the light. He is risen, just as He said. And so shall we! St. Paul says it all, "Are you not aware that we who were Baptized into Christ Jesus were Baptized into His death? By Baptism into His death we were, indeed, buried with Him so that just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, we might too live a new life. If therefore, we have died with Christ, we shall also live with Him. We know that Christ raised from the dead dies no more; death no longer has power over Him."

What St. Paul is doing is bringing us into The Mystery. The message isn't simply, "Believe this fact about Jesus." But he always moves it to the level of what this says about me and about you and about history and about the whole world. It is the pattern of life through death. It is the Paschal Mystery.

When St. Paul speaks about "Christ" he's speaking of all of creation. He never knew Jesus in the flesh but only as the Eternal Body of Christ. Christ crucified is the pain of human suffering, the tragic pain of history now made public and handed over to God. Christ resurrected is God receiving all suffering and transforming it by love into life. And so Christ is our hope. As we wander in the darkness and suffering of this world, we know it is not the last chapter. Through it God brings forth life. It is the Christ pattern and we are the Body of Christ.

Our problem is that it is hard to see when we are in the darkness. But it is in the darkness that we are formed. When a baby is in its mother's womb it is totally unaware of what is going on as it begins to physically develop. All the physical organs of the body are being knitted in this darkness to prepare it to enter into the light of the world. And at the fullness of time (nine months) this new hidden life bursts forth from its mother's womb fully (please God) physically developed.

It is now time to begin the work of the second gestation. Here in the darkness of necessary loss and suffering we begin to learn compassion, forgiveness, and mercy. Most of this is done in the dark night of our souls and in the fullness of time through our spiritual deaths we burst forth to eternal life. While it's not an easy ordeal, it's not a bad deal at all. It is the fullness of life. Eternal Life. And much of it begins right now insofar as we learn the lessons of mercy, compassion, love and forgiveness. This will always take a true death to the ego and false self.

So, He is risen. That's one half of the mystery. We are the other half. We are the body of Christ in space and time continually growing through the dark into the light. And the light of life beckons us on.

Our response to all of this? Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia!!! He is risen and so shall we. Happy Easter.

In Jesus, the Alive One,

Fr. Tony
