Note from the Pastor

Finding God in the Very Human

Jesus looked out over Jerusalem and saw her pain, her suffering, her sin and then cried out, "Oh, how I longed to gather you as a hen gathers her chicks." At the death of Lazarus, Jesus went to the tomb... "and Jesus wept." To me the tears of Jesus are proof enough of His humanity. And when you get to the very depths of humanity, you will discover the Divine. Now just what does it mean to be human? Obviously our mortality is part of it but all created things are mortal. Our social nature is another but ants and bees and even termites can be social. Opposable thumbs and speech, self-awareness and consciousness (not to mention self-consciousness) are certainly part of the mix. But for me empathy, compassion and vulnerability are the hallmark of the human and the gateway into the Divine at the heart of all things.

"He offered up prayers with strong crying and tears... son though He was He learned obedience from what He suffered and when He was made perfect..." There's the truly human pattern that leads to the divine. It is the necessary suffering, our own and that of others, that pulls out of us the core of our humanity and in the process we discover our truest self, our own divinity.

If we are to evolve and grow as human beings, then we can never turn our eyes away from suffering. Weakness is part of all living systems. Everything, even Mother Earth herself, is vulnerable and fragile. Paradoxically, it is this very vulnerability that creates the space in which transformation can take place. If we are hard nothing ever changes. We just defend our position, protect our turf and get even harder. Herd liners are hard people. Defending the borders and their own souls, they lock out the brokenness that makes us whole.

The moment we are not afraid to let the suffering and pain in, however, something begins to happen in us. Something is called out of us we might not even know we have, a deep love for the others that can only come from the Divine.

One of the tenants of physical evolution is survival of the fittest. Only the strong survive, we say. So we work for self-sufficiency, independence, invulnerability. Problem is, that in this self-sufficiency nothing is sufficient, nothing is enough. We find ourselves isolated and alone, safe in the fortress of our own making, locked up inside. This is no way to live.

One of the tenants of spiritual and therefore human evolution is that only in weakness and vulnerability do we grow in our capacity to love and be connected. The newborn is utterly weak and vulnerable and in total need. It is that very neediness that draws out of us all we have. I love to watch a newborn in her mother's arms after Sunday Mass. All gather around her magnetic grace cooing and smiling and hoping to grasp a glimpse of her divine helplessness to feed their hungry souls. All walk away a little more filled, a little more fed for having beheld the face of the vulnerable one, the face of God.

This is how we grow. We may never run away from suffering, we may never abandon the cross. For it is the cross not only of crucifixion but the cross of liberation, of the fullness of humanity and of the Divine. Don't try to wrap your head around this, it won't work. Wrap your heart, your soul around suffering humanity and watch it grow. The mystics know this and so do the poor, the humble, the little ones.

Many years ago when I was pastoring in Kankakee, there was a police blotter article in the local paper of a young man who ended his life from a tree. He was clearly Hispanic, with no papers and no identification. He was being temporarily kept at the county morgue.

I was not the first to read this, a member of our Mexican community came to me with it and said, "Padrecito, que hacemos sobre esto?" What are we going to do about this? He was a young man, lost, in a foreign country, no one knew who he was, and he didn't even have a name. And as she related the story, she wept. Tears of compassion, human tears at one with the pain and suffering of this man, tears of love.

What shall we do? She knew exactly what to do. This was an angel sent by God so we must name him. Miguel Angelo. Michael the Angel. We would claim him as our own, we would bury him and send him back to the Father, First Class. And so we did.

The following Sunday we took up a collection for the funeral. Nickels, dimes and dollars were collected from their own cumulative want. It was nowhere near enough for a nice casket, let alone a wake. We called one of the local funeral directors. Old Tom said, of course he would help. He'd take whatever we raised and make it work. He too was touched by vulnerability.

The word went out and at the wake more than 100 mourners attended. Mexican wakes are not like ours. We chit-chat and kibitz. They solemnly sit in silence, look at and mourn the dead. The funeral was something to behold. With the church almost full, we celebrated a Mass for Michael the Angel who came to them and called forth from them all that they had. The divine in him called forth the divine in them through their very, very humanness and weakness. For the hour of that Mass, not only was he, but we all were in heaven.

When Lazarus died, Jesus wept. They were human tears, tears of compassion and suffering, tears divine. How blessed are they who mourn, they who feel the pain of the world for not only shall they be consoled, but set free.

In Jesus, the Human/Compassionate One,

Fr. Tony

RE Registrations

We are continuing to take registrations for those classes where there is still room. Please note that class lists are filling up and space is limited to registered parishioners.

Catechists Needed

We have had some folks respond to our request for help and we thank you. However, we are still in need of catechists at various grade levels at various session times. If you are a loving, welcoming, accepting, forgiving person, you have the most important qualifications for being a catechist. You don't have to be a theologian, just someone who can help our children understand how the Gospel can be applied to their lives. Come share your Faith with the young people of Mary, Queen. All of our classes meet on Wednesdays. Currently we need catechists and aides at the following levels:

3:15 p.m. Session	Grade 1 – 1 catechist Grade 2 - 1 aide Grade 3 - 1 catechist 1 aide Grade 4 - 2 co-catechists
5:15 p.m. Session	Grade 6 - 1 aide
6:45 p.m. Session	Grade 6 – 1 co-catechist

As you can see, our greatest need is for our 3:15 p.m. session. If you are someone who works at home and are able to fit us into your schedule, we would love to speak with you.

For more information on any of the above,
 please contact the REO, (630) 832-8962

MEMORIAL DAY PRAYER

Dear Heavenly Father,
With a sober heart we come before You this Memorial Day.
We pause for a moment and call to mind all the men and women who have died in the service of our nation since 1776.

Dear God, please look with mercy on our brave and selfless brothers and sisters, who did not shirk from their task but gave themselves completely to the cause of defending and protecting us all. Bless all who have given their lives for the sake of liberty, and grant them eternal rest with You.

We remember also our brave men and women now serving in our Armed Forces, both at home and abroad.

Dear God, send out Your angels to protect them all. Help them discharge their duties honorably and well.

Please bring them safely home to their families and loved ones.

Please bring Your peace and mercy to our troubled world.

We ask this, Father, in the name of Jesus, Your Son, our Savior and Lord. Amen.
