Note from the Pastor

Preach, Baby, Preach!

Madonna once infamously sang, "Papa, don't preach." And truth be told, no one wants to be preached at. When you preach at someone you're giving them a piece of your mind. It feels like an assault. And yet one of the major jobs of this Papa (me) is to preach. I once had a housekeeper in Oswego who was listening to me talk as she was cleaning the house. "Talk, talk, talk. All you ever do is talk. Don't you ever work?" "This is my work," I cried, "It's what I do! (more or less)." I swear, I came out of the womb talking. And up until now I haven't stopped. That's about to change.

When I publically speak or preach one of my favorite opening lines is, "Can you hear me in the back of the room?" That's a silly question. God gave me a voice that can crack glass. My follow up line is always the same, "Good. My daddy used to say, 'Son, if you can't be good at least be loud.'" And loud I am. I speak in primary colors and I'm about as subtle as a building falling on your head. And when I am done preaching, I'm always amazed that the vast majority of you all have listened.

Someone once asked me where I get all my ideas for homilies. That's easy, I ask myself what do I need to hear and I basically preach to myself. What is the Scripture text saying to me in my life today? What do I need to do to grow into the person I am called to be, fully alive in the Christ? And then I preach to myself. You get to listen in.

While packing these last few weeks, I ran across the second 'Note from the Pastor' that I wrote to you after I arrived. In it I confessed that I was an "unwed father." I then shared with you about my children and grandchildren. And many of you being parents and grandparents yourselves received it without a problem. Well, today, I've got another confession to make. Someone once asked me how many different sermons I've preached in my life. The truth is, only one. I just preach it in 8,000 different ways.

And that one sermon? I believe that all of us have a life message. Paul talks about different gifts for different people that build up the Body of Christ.

Some are healers, some are teachers, some are servers, some are preachers. And the list goes on. And no matter what our gift, it adds something to the building of the Body of Christ. The one with the gift of hospitality creates a secure environment where we can discover who we truly are. The healer, heals. And the preacher?

I truly believe the seeds of my vocation go back to second grade as I was preparing for First Communion. At that time I had a rather profound mystical experience. (Yes, yes, I believe little kids have mystical experiences all the time... they just don't have words for them. And neither do we.) On the day before First Communion, sitting on the swing in the playground of St. Michael Church, the world opened up and I experienced in my entire being the presence of God. It was Holy Communion before I received Holy Communion. As quickly as the heavens opened up, they closed. The next day, I made my First Holy Communion and it was nice but...

From that day on I can remember going to church and listening to the sermons. My pastor was a good preacher but the poor fellow we had from the Missionaries of the Sacred Heart could hardly get a sentence out. Often there was an audible groan when he walked out onto the altar to celebrate. But no matter who the preacher was, good or bad, I can remember thinking as a fifth grader, I can do better than that (Oh, the arrogance of the uneducated) and, why don't they talk about something that really counts. I was, of course, remembering my experience and experiences that followed. By now I was beginning to recognize the presence of the Divine in both big and very little ways. By now, I knew that when my mother made bread on Saturday mornings and we ate it Saturday afternoon around the table that something special was going on, something holy and God was there. And I wanted to preach about it. And so I have.

My one sermon? My life message? We are inseparable from the Divine. And the Divine is not only benign but loving. God is not out there! We are not separate beings independent of God. We are part of God. God is the ocean, we are the waves. And if we are so intimately one with the Divine, and everyone else is as well, then we are intimately one with each other. Separation, division, hatred, wars are all an illusion. The reality is unity... and diversity. And it's sweet. That's my sermon, that's my life message. And now you know.

How many ways are there of telling that truth? Let me count the ways. Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel once told the story of the professor who asked his students how they could tell when the dawn had broken. One student answered, "when you can distinguish between an oak tree and an elm tree." No. Another suggested, 'when you can see the mountains from the clouds.' No. Well then, tell us when. "The dawn has broken and you can see the light when you look at all other human beings and you can see that they are all your brothers and sisters. Anything else, and you remain in the darkness no matter what the hour is."

There. I preached. Amen.

In Jesus, Gods Proclamation,

FATHER TONY'S RETIREMENT RECEPTIONS

All parishioners and their families are invited to wish Father Tony farewell the weekend of June 7 and 8. This is the last opportunity we will have to say "good bye" and "thank you" for everything he has done for us and Mary Queen of Heaven parish and "best wishes" on his retirement. Father has been a remarkable Shepherd to the faith community of our parish and words can not ever express our gratitude. Father Tony will be celebrating all the Masses the weekend of June 7 and 8 and after each Mass, he will be honored with a reception in Barrett Hall. We hope everyone will join us in this tribute to Father Tony.

PRAYER SHAWL MINISTRY

In a prayerful spirit, today, making prayer shawls is a great blessing to everyone to be closer to God, those who participate in making shawls and those who've received. Everyone has a place in this ministry. Much like the song, "All are Welcome," let's pray together to open our hearts and minds in this beautiful, loving ministry. Families can gather together in their own home to have a blessing time of making shawls. We can provide the materials and instructions.

Perhaps you are able to:

- ◆ Donate time (together or on your own), skills or supplies.
- ◆ Create, tie, count, knit, crochet, sew, cut, measure, etc.
- ◆ Pray while making the shawls.
- ◆ Distribute shawls.
- ◆ Receive shawls – anyone who is in need to feel close to God.

We're looking for willing participants in this beautiful and rewarding Mary Queen of Heaven Ministry. Please contact Ruth Maple at (630) 279-5612.

We will meet on Thursday night, June 19 at 7:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m. in the Room 4-5 in MQH school, for information, general instructions, and some prayer time.

YOGA EARLY SUMMER SCHEDULE

Yoga at Mary Queen, welcomes all ages. If you have not tried Yoga yet, come and try it out. Classes are offered at 9:00 a.m. - June 5, 12, 19 and 26. Call Debbie at (630) 941-7224 with any questions or to be put on her email list for yoga.

Religious Education News

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION NEWS

RE Registrations

We are continuing to take registrations for those classes where there is still room. Please note that class lists are filling up and space is limited to registered parishioners.

Catechists Needed

We have had some folks respond to our request for help and we thank you. However, we are still in need of a few catechists at various grade levels at various session times. If you are a loving, welcoming, accepting, forgiving person, you have the most important qualifications for being a catechist. You don't have to be a theologian, just someone who can help our children understand how the Gospel can be applied to their lives. Come share your Faith with the young people of Mary, Queen. Please contact the RE office for more information.

For more information on any of the above, please contact the REO, (630) 832-8962 or email us at re@maryqueen.org.
