A NOTE FROM FATHER JASON

One of our Gospel options for this weekend is that of the Prodigal Son, one of the most well known and well beloved parables in scripture. Perhaps we are drawn to this story because of its vivid presentation of a story we all know too well... grasping to possess too soon, realizing we have messed up and squandered our lives, and then realizing the need to return to God for forgiveness. The image of the father at the son's return is a poignant one and a good image to consider as we journey through Lent. The father goes out to meet the son. He does not question what happened to the son. He simply welcomes him back, overjoyed to see him and to have him home again. What a comforting image for us as we examine our lives and consider what aspects of our own lives need to be returned to the Father. He will be there waiting for us, arms outstretched and ready to celebrate with us. We only need to, like the son, realize our mistake and take the first steps back toward God. He will then do the rest.

The word prodigal means lavish and profuse, even wasteful. Although usually attributed to the son's behavior as he wastes his inheritance, perhaps the more prodigal character in the story is the father. After all, what is more overboard than to call a feast for someone who wasted a gift you gave them? The father is even more than generous in his response to the other son, reminding him that everything I have is already yours.

As we journey through the desert of Lenten penance and examination of our lives, let us remember this image of the father. In these days of moderation and repentance, it is easy to let ourselves fall into the mindset that God wants us to suffer, that we are being punished, or that the spiritual life is only a demanding set of rules. The image of the prodigal father, who wants us to have everything we need to turn away from this world's promises of prodigal rewards that only bring emptiness toward the father whose lavish grace never disappoints.

May God bless you with the faith, hope, and love that you need to see your heart's need to return to Him, our prodigal Father, who is watching and waiting for our return.

Fr. Jason

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

On March 5th and 6th, the Diocese of Joliet will join others around the country in taking up the Catholic Relief Services Collection sponsored by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB). This collection funds six Catholic agencies that work to serve Jesus in the disguise of our suffering brothers and sisters around the world.

Catholic Legal Immigration Network, Inc. (CLINIC) promotes the dignity and protects the rights of immigrants in partnership with a dedicated network of Catholic and community legal immigration programs.

USCCB Secretariat of Cultural Diversity in the Church works collaboratively with the bishops and their dioceses to bring Catholics from various culturally diverse communities into a fuller participation in the faith, life, and evangelizing mission of the Church. This includes promotion of dialogue, and promoting the pastoral care of Hispanic Catholics, African American Catholics, Native American Catholics, Asian Catholics, African Catholics, Pacific Island Catholics, Catholic migrants and refugees, and people on the move.

USCCB Department of Justice, Peace and Human Development advocates on behalf of the Church for the economic and social justice of the poor and the abandoned and care for the environment, through important public policy work, education and humanitarian assistance.

The Holy Father's Relief Fund provides critical and emergency care and support to victims suffering as a result of natural disasters across the globe.

Catholic Relief Services, which was founded in 1943 by the US Bishops to provide support to impoverished WWII survivors in Europe has expanded worldwide and now provides general humanitarian support to over 85 million people in 101 countries on five continents.
