A MESSAGE FROM FATHER JASON

Last month, I was blessed to travel for two weeks with the University Mission to Bolivia (UM2B) group to Sucre, Bolivia. The group was made up of twenty two university students, staff members from the diocese and universities and myself. The students were from Benedictine University in Lisle, Lewis University in Lockport, and St. Francis University in Joliet. Most were studying either education or nursing. We worked at daycares and schools, a hospital for disabled children, and in the hospital for the poor. Much of our work was painting classrooms and playgrounds and assisting with the care of the children. A team went to the market every day to find shoes for the children at the school along with other needed supplies, supplementing the military duffel bag each participant brought full of books, school supplies, and clothing.

This was my second time serving as chaplain for the trip. It was interesting to talk the students through their reactions to the fact that life is very different there, especially in the lack of resources that those in social services face. The government there is making much needed investments in infrastructure but unfortunately that means that supplies run out, teachers go unpaid, and there is a lack of professionally trained staff to help care for those with complex needs.

The highlight of the trip was a visit to a Catholic School for Junior High aged girls. The director of the trip saw a need to find help volunteering at the sites throughout the year, as some of the sites need help beyond the two weeks we can provide. We engaged the group with witnesses by a few of our students on their experiences as volunteers on mission and encouraged the girls to consider volunteering. The discussion ended with us asking the girls if they had any volunteer experience and I was surprised to hear that some were already volunteering at the Children's Hospital and they were interested in learning more about the opportunity to help other needy children at the daycares. It gave me hope to hear that the youth were aware of the needs all around them and that they had a genuine concern for helping the street children of Sucre.

I am not my own;
I have given myself to Jesus.
He must be my only love.

—St. Kateri Tekakwitha

A NOTE FROM FATHER (CONT'D)

The trip was a good experience and reminded me how blessed we are and how much potential there is out there for us to respond to the call to love our neighbors near and far, as the Good Samaritan shows us how to do in this week's Gospel.

FAITH FORMATION NEWS

RE NEWS BY JO STYLER LIVE MUSIC AT RE COMING 2016!

I love to sing in the car... in the shower... around the house! I love to sing with a group too! I am terrified to sing alone in front of an audience. But during VBS I played my guitar and sang out loud with the kids. Then I attended a Youth Leadership Conference and sang out loud while doing motions to the lyrics. (I didn't do the motions alone; we all were doing them while we sang.)

I am preparing to use more music in RE with all the kids. You middle school kids, we will be using music with motions too! Music adds another dimension to prayer and worship; that is why we sing.

I invite all who have a talent for singing, playing a musical instrument like piano, drums, or guitar to join us for a holy hootenanny during RE. Please call Jo at the REO to make live music a part of the RE experience.

REGISTER FOR RE NOW!

Religious Education Registrations for the 2016-2017 are now being taken. The forms are on the MQH website, or they are available at the REO.

If your family knows a family that wants to join our MQH faith community and have their children receive faith formation, please have them call Jo at the Religious Education Office (REO) at (630) 832-8962.

So, whether you need to "catch-up" on the sacraments, just want to "sit in" to refresh your Catholic memory, or want to come into the Catholic faith, please stop by and let's get to know each other. Those of you who are in full communion may want to think about joining the Team and sharing your talents. There will be 2 more "meet and greets" in August. Please check the bulletin for the details and dates. If you have any questions please contact Jo Styler in the Faith Formation office at (630) 832-8962 or re@maryqueen.org.
