A MESSAGE FROM FATHER JASON

In the Gospel today, Jesus tells us “ask and you will receive, seek, and you will find, knock and the door will be opened to you (Luke 11:10).” What a wonderful promise that God gives us in assuring us that our prayers will be answered in this way. In faith, we should believe that our prayers will be answered. After all, Jesus tells us that our heavenly Father loves us more than any human parent is able to love. How blessed we are to have such a God.

Unfortunately, even though we know that God hears our prayers, we experience doubt and our faith falters when it seems that our prayers are not being answered. How easy it is to give up on the Lord’s promise even after one prayer seems to go unanswered! Jesus reminds us that persistence is needed if our prayers are to be answered. After all, we cannot expect one who loves us like a parent to give us anything we want when the extent of our relationship with Him is to make occasional demands.

Prayer helps us to enter into that relationship that understands and respects that God does love us, and sometime that means the answer to a prayer may not come right away or the answer may not look anything like we were expecting. And so, if we are struggling with a prayer that seems to have gone unanswered, perhaps we need to pray that God help us to see or understand the answer. The Our Father gives us a good start to that movement toward God... Thy will be done. If that still does not help us see God’s answer, then perhaps there is a gift of the Holy Spirit that we should have been praying for all along? Our prayers should constantly be asking for an increase in wisdom, understanding, counsel, knowledge, fortitude, piety, and fear of the Lord. Prayers for increased fruitfulness in our ability to live in love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control are valuable as well.

If we are asking for truly good things, then how can God say no? Let us consider if we have put enough effort into asking, seeking, and knocking for the good things we really need: Dear Lord, give me this day my daily bread, that which is truly good for me. Only that your will be done, and nothing more.

Father Jason

CATHOLIC MIGRANT FARMWORKER NETWORK TO SPEAK AT ALL MASSES AUGUST 6 AND AUGUST 7

Catholic Migrant Farmworker Network is a national organization dedicated to the pastoral ministry with migrant and seasonal farm workers. Founded in 1986, the Network operates with the support and the collaboration of the Office for the Pastoral Care of Migrants and Refugees of the US Catholic Conference. The CMFN works to bring the pastoral presence of the Church to thousands of migrant farm workers throughout the country. Though most farm workers continue to adhere to their traditional faith, they often lack the pastoral presence and support of the local church community.

Their mission is to promote the formation of welcoming church communities by advocating social justice, dignity and respect for all in order that we may be a missionary church. The seasonal farm workers who CMFN serves are highly mobile immigrants, residing in isolated rural areas, and are nearly invisible in our society and in our Church. CMFN helps bridge the differences and distances that separate the people of God.

Jenny Derksen will speak at Mary Queen of Heaven on August 6 and 7 at all Masses as part of the Diocesan Missionary Co-operation Plan to appeal for your help both financially and above all, through your prayers.

Please come and meet Jenny.

Sincerely in Christ,
Miriam Bannon
Executive Director, Catholic Migrant Farmworker Network
