

CRHP – Truth vs Fiction – Dispelling the Myths

I have to stay overnight on the weekend – FALSE. It is encouraged so you can get away from the outside world for 30 hours but it is definitely not mandatory. Many participants go home and come back early the next morning due to health issues or family. We will tell you what time to be back in the morning when you leave for the night.

If I do the weekend, I have to commit to team formation – FALSE. Many men and women have gone on the weekend and come away with a deeply spiritual experience that have made an impact on their lives but did not go on to team formation. TRUE that it is part of a deepening spiritual experience to go through team formation and give back for the next weekend but it is not mandatory. Many participants, in fact, want to come back to help out for the weekends in many ways without going through formation. Once you have made a CRHP weekend you are always welcome to be on a team in the future if you so desire. But you can make the weekend without any further commitment.

I'm not spiritual enough – FALSE. Nobody is spiritual enough. That's why they call it a journey and its best when you share that journey with others. We're not meant to walk alone.

I'm too spiritual for this weekend – then YOU need it the most!

It's too intense – not enough fun – FALSE. You get out of it what you put into it – there is a lot of fun, a lot of laughs, some down time and many wonderful, beautiful surprises that will show you how much God loves you.

Won't you join us? Women's weekend is January 21-22, 2017. It's never too early to register!!!
